FAULKNER, THE LAWYER.

One thing which this Clark hearing has proven is the splendid ability of former Senator Faulkner, of West Virginia, as a lawyer. After a very active career in politics, Senator Faulkner came to the conclusion that there wasn't very much in the game after all, so he called himself out of it and has since been practicing law, with an office in Washington. Very naturally, with his wide acquaintance and his former prominence in legislation, he had no trouble in find ing clients, and he represents here a num ber of important people. This is, how ever, the first contest case in which he has appeared, and it gave the first opportunity which his former colleagues have had of witnessing his legal methods, if may use the expression. Throughout the hearing he has dem only a broad understanding of the law and of Senate precedents, but a splendi capacity at handling witnesses, which has called forth the admiration of the members of the committee, especially o those who are themselves prominent at torneys. Whatever the ultimate result o the case may be, it has already won for the gentleman from West Virginia fresh laurels.-Atlanta Constitution.

Bollvía's Inhospitable Climate. Agriculture makes slow progress in Bolivia. In the lands of the upper platenu, surrounding La Paz and Oruro, barley is grown and potatoes sown to a considerable extent, but the yield is poor on account of the very inhospita ble nature of the climate and the con stant frosts which occur at night dur ing the summer season. The grain produced is utilized for food purposes and the straw for fodder. - Indianapolla

Stiffens Joints. Is due to an acid poison which gains access to the blood through failure of the proper organs to carry off and keep the system clear of all morbid, effete matter. This poison through the general circulation is deposited in the joints, muscles and nerves, causing the most intense pain. Rheumatism may attack with such suddenness and severity as to make within a few days a healthy, active person helpless and bed-ridden, with distorted limbs and shattered nerves; or it may be slow in developing, with slight wandering pains, just severe enough to make one feel uncomfortable; the tendency in such cases is to grow worse, and finally become chronic.

Like other blood diseases, Rheumatism is often inherited, and exposure to damp or cold, want of proper food, insufficient clothing, or anything calculated to impair the health, will frequently cause it to develop in early life, but more often not until middle age or later.
